Update

This tab specifies preferences for files or objects created by "Hook to New". We call them "notes".

Notes Folder

Create new note files in:

You can move notes after they are created.

Templates

Default (⌘N):

The note created by ⌘N ("Hook to New") can either be a copy of a template file or an item of an app with a "Hook to New" Script (per Scripts tab). Use ⌘^N to override the default.

Open Templates Folder in Finder

You may add, edit and remove template files from the Custom Templates folder. Custom templates override built-in templates.

Restore Built-in Templates

This sends the contents of the built-in templates folder to the trash, and copies all the built-in templates back into that folder.

New Note Filename

Prefix:

Suffix:

Hook will add the prefix and suffix specified above to the names of notes created by "Hook to New".

This script handles a URL. It launches the appropriate application and opens the linked resource or document.

This script is not required if macOS or the linked application is natively able to handle the URL returned by 'Get Address' to open the document.

Specify the scheme used in the URL returned by "Get Address" script. The scheme identifies which 'Open Item' script Hook should open the URL with.

`scheme :///document-identifier`
